my first blog script

I m Odorico
I'm writing this script, for learning to teach to my students how they can realize a blog for linking my school , the Itis Enrico Fermi of Mantova, and the schools in Sarnat and Bodhgaya of the Alice project of Universal Education of Valentino Giacomini.

(www.aliceproject.org or www.aliceproject.info)

I hope that in this way the love can unify more and more my life with every human life of my friends and of my painful neighbour.

I'm happy , now, being in love . Today Kailash, my indian friend that last summer and last winter followed me in the schools of Sarnat and Bodhgaya, called me lovingly by phone.

And one week ago, from Urumqi Caroline Huan, my chinese friend, wrote me as follows, about my return to the Alice project Schools:

"My italian friend Odorico,

Thank you so much for sharing your nice experience with me. You are so kind to support your friend family and the school in the indian holy Bouddisth Pleaces of Sarnat and Bodhgaya. It gives student knowledge of Buddha, right? I think, my friend, I believe you can enjoy a peaceful mind when you listen to the Buddha music. You know, India is holy Land of Buddhism. Why don't you know more about that when you come to India.

As for my things, I am fine in Xinjiang now and I do sth about psychological counseling with the ideas of oriental and western. We try to combine the idea of Chinese traditional medicine to psychological counseling. That is big project and need a lot of work, right?

I understand that the teaching is a tough work and teacher should work hard and will face different pressure from the new technology\new knowledge and problems from students. But I think the Buddha music will make you feel better and give your strength if you enjoy them often.

Take care

Caroline"

karma

Karma

Se allo sguardo temi il volto, larva di luna, ed al limitare il piede vacilla, mentre la parola sbianca svanendo, immancabilmente, quanto tu fosti
già bestia di fogna, sterco di lastrico,
in quante altre vite morte tu soffocherai ove sfiaterà il grido l'apparire del boia, povero seme, dovunque ricadi, stritolato tra i sassi dalla ruota che gira.

Sii, Tu, in me,

Sii Tu, in me,
in così strenua fatica, del ramo il turgore che germina ancora, la linfa che ripercorre l' inaridirsi della fibra stremata, sii Tu in una voce, che ancora richiama, fra l'acredine della morsa il soffio d'amore.

Kallu, my dear friend My dream of you, my dear friend, is interminable.
My dream of you is your image in my hearth, in my mind, in which you are dreaming by our friendship, by your work, a marvelous future for your children,

-your enchanting son ,

your delightful daughter, alongside you and your wife, you and me friends for ever, living together a long, long life, again, by all the holy India's lands, no more separated by thousands of miles, but next-door neighbours in some remote village of the Madhya Pradesh, a green, clean, quiet place, as your hearth of hearts.
